

Whistleblower Policy

Policy Owner: Whistleblower Program Lead

Policy Level: ANZ Group

Version 2.1

31 July 2024

1. BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

The ANZ Group has a strong values-based culture that encourages openness, integrity, and accountability, enabling our people to succeed together and deliver what matters.

This policy has been developed so that you can freely and without fear of detriment raise concerns regarding situations where you believe that ANZ, including any of its controlled entities or related bodies corporate, globally, or anyone connected to the ANZ Group, have acted in a way that constitutes misconduct. The policy and program are important in fostering a safe speak up culture and in helping to identify misconduct that may not have otherwise been uncovered. .

This policy explains how you can report such concerns, the protections that will apply to you (and others), how your concerns will be investigated, and other sources of information that may be helpful to you.

2. PRINCIPLES

- 1. Speak Up and Report It! - If you are a current employee of ANZ, please consider whether you would prefer to report your concern via another channel such as your line manager, skip line manager, the Risk, Compliance, or Talent & Culture teams (including to Employee Relations via PeopleHub). Refer to Report It! for options.
- 2. Protection from Detrimental Conduct - ANZ does not tolerate detrimental conduct, that causes or is intended to cause harm to you that you or someone else has made, or intend to make, or are suspected as having made a report (or because you or someone else might or could make a report).
- 3. Confidentiality and Consent - ANZ will maintain confidentiality of all reports made under this Policy and your identity as a reporter to the fullest extent possible. While ANZ encourages you to identify yourself to the Whistleblower Program, you can also report on an anonymous basis.
- 4. ANZ's expectations of you - ANZ expects you to act honestly and ethically, and to make a report on reasonable grounds.
- 5. Investigations and Outcomes - All investigations will be conducted in a timely manner, in accordance with the principles of fairness and natural justice and appropriately documented. Where appropriate, ANZ will update you on the status and outcome of your report.
- 6. Higher Standard - This policy is designed to comply with ANZ's legal obligations. If anything in this policy is inconsistent with any law imposed on ANZ, including laws of any jurisdiction in which ANZ operates, that legal obligation or the 'higher standard' will prevail over this policy.
- 7. Regulators - You have the right to communicate with regulators and law enforcement authorities at any time in relation to your concerns or any matter relating to this policy.

Some of these Principles are further explained throughout this policy.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

- i. Your concern is not one of the Excluded Matters outlined below;

- iii. You have a reasonable and genuine concern about actual or suspected misconduct within or by ANZ, or the ANZ Group and anyone at, or connected with, the ANZ Group.

Examples of what might constitute misconduct include:

1. breaches of ANZ's Code of Conduct;
2. practices or behaviours of concern relating to compliance with policies, procedures, or the law (i.e., including anything you think may be illegal);
3. unethical or unprofessional behaviour, including conduct that does not meet ANZ's commitment to do the right thing by its customers, third parties, regulators, shareholders and or the community;

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

10. misconduct or an improper state of affairs or circumstances (may include, but is not limited to, business behaviour and practices that cause consumer harm or systemic issues) in relation to the ANZ Group generally, including the tax affairs of the ANZ Group; and
11. a practice or behaviour of concern that relates to your current or past employment within the ANZ Group that has significant implications for the ANZ Group, presents a danger to the public or financial system, or otherwise is a breach of law.

B. EXCLUDED MATTERS

While everyone is encouraged to speak up and report any concerns to ANZ, not everyone nor all types of concerns are intended to be covered by this Policy. Examples of the matters that are generally not intended to be covered by this Policy are:

Exclusion 1: Customer Complaints

If you are a customer and are concerned with the way ANZ has handled any matter, product, or service, including an existing complaint, please contact ANZ with your concern (<https://www.anz.com.au/support/contact-us/complaints/>). For Suncorp Bank concerns, please contact Suncorp Bank. (<https://www.suncorpbank.com.au/contact-us/customer-relations.html>)

Exclusion 2: Personal Work-related Grievances

If you are a current or former employee of ANZ and want to report a grievance that directly affects you personally (and only you) in the context of your current or past employment, please contact ANZ's Employee Relations team (current employees may contact them via ANZ PeopleHub). Examples may include: an interpersonal conflict between you and another employee, a decision relating to your employment, transfer or promotion, a decision about the terms and conditions of your employment, and a decision to suspend or terminate your employment or otherwise discipline you based on your conduct, behaviour, or performance. These matters are excluded from the Policy as, generally speaking, they are not matters that the whistleblower laws are intended to protect, unless they have broader implications for ANZ (as described in example 11 above) or they relate to detrimental conduct (as described in section 7 of this Policy).

ANZ has other dedicated processes in place available to employees through which it may be more appropriate to report a particular concern. Please refer to Principle 1 above.

4. HOW DO I MAKE A REPORT OR FIND OUT MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE PROCESS?

You can find out more information about the reporting process, or make a report via email, telephone, post, or using our external service. Whichever method you choose below, a Whistleblower Protection Officer will be assigned to your report and will work with the Whistleblower Program Team to assess your report and arrange for an investigation, if appropriate. The different ways you can make a report or find out more information, are:

Whistleblower Protection Officer (WPOs): You can contact a WPO directly to make a report. A WPO is an individual within ANZ who has specific responsibilities under this Policy including protecting those who make a report and undergo role-specific training on these responsibilities. In all cases, a WPO will be assigned to your report so that it is assessed and where appropriate, investigated.

WPOs include certain senior leaders and individuals with appropriate skills and expertise to discharge their responsibilities under the Policy, including the Chief Compliance Officer, Group

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

General Manager Internal Audit, and Whistleblower Program Lead. A current list of WPOs can be found here.

Whistleblower Program Team (WP Team): You can contact the WP Team directly via email: whistleblowing@anz.com. The WP Team includes the Whistleblower Program Lead and forms part of the Group Compliance function at ANZ.

Deloitte: You can make a report through ANZ's External Whistleblower Reporting Service which is managed by Deloitte. You can make a report (including an anonymous report) via:

Other Eligible Recipients (OER): There are other individuals at ANZ who are also eligible to receive reports and who are required to handle that information in accordance with this Policy. This includes members of the Executive Committee (ExCo), officers of the ANZ Group, certain members of Group Tax and Internal Audit and internal actuaries performing actuarial services on behalf of the ANZ Group. Ultimately all reports received by OERs internal to ANZ will be referred to a WPO and the WP Team unless there are exceptional circumstances. ANZ therefore recommends that you make your report using one of the other methods outlined above.

Additional support for ANZ Employees: For ANZ employees and their immediate families, who have made a report, or are thinking about making a report, and wish to seek additional support, the Employee Assistance Program (EAP) provides free, confidential, short term wellbeing support services by qualified professionals face to face, over the phone or over the internet. The program consists of a number of services which can be found here.

Additional support for non-employees: For non-employees based in Australia, who have made a report, and wish to seek additional support, the ANZ Whistleblower Support Program provides free, confidential, short term wellbeing support services 24/7 by qualified professionals over the phone on this toll free number: 1300 916 539.

5. WHAT ARE MY PROTECTIONS UNDER WHISTLEBLOWER LAWS?

ANZ applies the standards under this Policy, however this does not extend to providing independent legal advice as to the application of the law and protections under the law for your specific circumstances. If you require further information regarding the application of the law, we encourage you to seek independent legal advice. For further information on Australian whistleblowing laws, please see the ANZ Presence Schedule for Australia.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

6. WHAT IF MY CONCERNS RELATE TO CONDUCT, PEOPLE OR OPERATIONS OUTSIDE OF AUSTRALIA?

You can make a report regardless of where you are or where the conduct is occurring. If your report concerns conduct, people, or operations located outside of Australia, there may be some specific requirements, depending on which jurisdiction is involved. Please see the ANZ Presence Schedules. If there is no separate ANZ Presence Schedule for a jurisdiction, the general provisions of this Policy apply in full.

7. I HAVE MADE A REPORT UNDER THIS POLICY. WHAT NEXT?

A. PROTECTION FROM DETRIMENTAL CONDUCT (PRINCIPLE 2)

ANZ does not tolerate any detriment that is inflicted on you because of the fact that you or someone else has made a report, or due to someone suspecting that you or someone else might make a report, regardless of whether you have or are intending to do so. ANZ will take all reasonable steps to protect you from detrimental conduct and will take appropriate action where such conduct is identified. Examples of what may be considered detrimental conduct include:

- a) retaliation, dismissal, suspension, demotion, or having your employment or engagement with ANZ otherwise terminated;
- b) harassment, threats, or intimidation;
- c) discrimination, being subjected to current or future bias, or derogatory treatment;
- d) injury or harm, including psychological harm;
- e) damage or threats to your property, business, financial position, or reputation;
- f) revealing your identity as a Whistleblower without your consent or contrary to law; or
- g) threatening to carry out any of the above actions.

These protections apply to you regardless of whether any concerns raised in a report are substantiated, provided that you are acting honestly and ethically and made the report on reasonable grounds. These protections also apply to individuals conducting, assisting, or participating in an investigation.

If someone at ANZ, including any supplier to ANZ, engages in detrimental conduct against you, please immediately contact your WPO, the Whistleblower Program Lead, the WP Team, either directly or through ANZ's External Whistleblower Reporting Service managed by Deloitte (contact details above). This includes where you have felt you:

- are disadvantaged or have suffered detriment because of the fact that you or someone else has made a report, or due to someone suspecting that you or someone else might make a report or because someone believes you have or may make a report;
- are disadvantaged or have suffered detriment for participating in or assisting an investigation; or
- have any concerns regarding your safety for having made a report or in considering making a report.

Where the detrimental conduct against you involves the WPO, you should report the matter to the ANZ Chief Compliance Officer, or the Group General Manager of Internal Audit if the WPO is the Chief Compliance Officer.

It is very important that you report any such detriment immediately, as it will help ANZ better protect you to the extent possible. Reports of detrimental conduct will be treated confidentially. Anyone engaging in detrimental conduct may be subject to serious consequences, including disciplinary action and/or termination of employment, engagements, or contracts, as applicable. They may also be subject to legal consequences in the form of civil and criminal penalties.

It is important to note, that ANZ also views the misuse of the Whistleblower channel seriously and a disclosure that is deliberately dishonest could give rise to disciplinary or other action.

B. CONFIDENTIALITY AND CONSENT (PRINCIPLE 3)

When you make a report under this Policy or shortly after, ANZ will seek your consent in relation to how you would prefer information about your identity, including any information that is likely to identify you, to be handled (we use the term your Identity to refer to this information below). More information will be provided when you make a report, but in general terms, you can select one of three options below for protecting your Identity. Regardless of the option you choose, ANZ will keep information in relation to your Identity and your report confidential to the fullest extent possible:

Confidential - this means that you consent to the WPO and WP Team knowing your Identity and for the WPO and WP Team to disclose your Identity for the purposes of investigating, and for reporting to relevant stakeholders (e.g., a Whistleblower Investigator or an internal lawyer). This is the preferred option because ANZ will be best placed to fully investigate the matter and provide you with ongoing protection and support. Practical steps ANZ may take to protect confidentiality may include, but are not limited to:

- referring to a reporter using gender neutral language;
- removing information that might lead to the identity of a reporter from written material; or
- consulting with a reporter in relation to any further measures that might be taken in order to maintain confidentiality.

Partially Anonymous - this means that you have consented to only the WPO and WP Team knowing your Identity. This approach may create some limitations for investigative purposes which the WP Team can talk to you about.

Anonymous - this means you haven't identified yourself to ANZ, the WP Team or the WPO. You can choose to remain anonymous at the time of making a report, over the course of the investigation and after the investigation is finalised. You can refuse to answer questions that you feel could reveal your Identity at any time, including during follow-up conversations and you can omit information from your report that you are concerned may reveal your Identity.

ANZ welcomes anonymous reports when you are not comfortable to disclose your Identity, but they can present some challenges, as ANZ may not be able to seek further information from you, update you, and in some circumstances, it could be difficult to investigate the matter fully or even at all. Knowing your Identity may assist ANZ to investigate the matters you have raised, improve the effectiveness of the investigation, and enable ANZ to communicate, support and protect you better. For these reasons, if you wish to remain anonymous it is important that you maintain ongoing communication with ANZ either via the WP Team, the WPO or the Deloitte service so ANZ can ask follow-up questions, provide support, or provide feedback on any investigation challenges and provide updates.

If you make an anonymous report, ANZ will protect you in the following ways:

- maintaining communication through anonymous telephone hotlines and anonymised email addresses;

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

- limiting any interviews to phone interviews and information gathering to email or via the Deloitte service, as appropriate and only where you have consented; and
- not taking deliberate steps to identify you during an investigation.

Note that for legal and regulatory reasons, where your Identity is known to ANZ, ANZ may need to disclose your Identity to lawyers, regulators and or law enforcement authorities, regardless of the level of consent you have provided. In some cases, ANZ may also need to disclose information likely to identify you where it is reasonably necessary for the purposes of an investigation and where reasonable steps have been taken to protect your Identity.

To help protect you and your Identity, please don't share details of the matter, your report, or what ANZ tells you with others outside of the WP Team. Of course, you have the right to communicate with regulators and law enforcement authorities at any time (see Principle 7 in Part 2 above).

C. INVESTIGATION AND OUTCOMES (PRINCIPLE 5)

After receiving a report from you, ANZ will:

- Assign a WPO to your report;
- Assess your report to determine if it will be managed under this Policy;
- Determine whether and how to investigate;
- Consider any conflicts of interest prior to investigating; and
- Appoint a Whistleblower Investigator, if appropriate.

Whistleblower Investigators are predominantly from ANZ's Group Integrity and/or Employee Relations teams but may include others with the appropriate skills and subject matter expertise as required. Whistleblower Investigators are briefed on your report and their confidentiality obligations. Investigations are to be conducted in a timely, fair, and impartial manner, and investigators are required to act independently and competently and to treat all those involved in a report fairly so that each case is evaluated on its merits.

ANZ will ensure the fair treatment of individuals mentioned in reports by handling reports under this Policy confidentially and sensitively. Where appropriate, individuals who are accused of misconduct in a report (a Respondent) will have an opportunity to respond to allegations before any adverse findings of fact in any investigation are made and, for Employee Respondents, before any disciplinary action (if appropriate) is taken.

If you make a report about a matter that has already been investigated by or on behalf of ANZ, (for example by Employee Relations or Group Integrity) the WP Team will assess the report to determine if further investigation is necessary.

The Whistleblower Investigator may need to contact you for further information for the purpose of the investigation and, where necessary and subject to confidentiality obligations, may also need to speak to other individuals who may have relevant information regarding the matters reported. If you have not provided your consent to be contacted, or if you decline or can't provide further information, this may limit ANZ's ability to investigate the matter fully, and in some circumstances, could mean that an investigation is not possible. We will endeavour to let you know if this is the case. The method for documenting and reporting the findings of any investigation will depend on the nature of the report. The report and any investigation records will be securely retained.

For investigated reports, the WP Team or the Whistleblower Investigator will provide you with updates on progress and any investigation outcomes, where appropriate and subject to any confidentiality constraints. These updates may be written or verbal, depending on the circumstances. There may be circumstances where it is not appropriate to provide details of the outcome of the investigation to you.

As noted above, if you have made a report anonymously, it is very important that you check back in on the status of your report, as ANZ may have left messages for you in an attempt to update you on the investigation, or to let you know what further information is needed that may be critical to progressing the investigation.

Each report will have a unique identifier which will be provided to you so you can liaise with the WPO assigned to you in order to seek feedback on the status or outcome of your report.

If you are not satisfied that your report has been investigated and acted upon appropriately, you may contact the Chief Compliance Officer to request a review. Where a request to review a report is made and the WPO assigned to the report is the Chief Compliance Officer, the review will be conducted by the Group General Manager of Internal Audit.

ANZ Presence Schedules

1 Australia

- A. This schedule sets out a summary of the legal protections that may be available under Australian law. ANZ will apply the standards set out in the Policy. Some aspects of the Policy may be broader than the legal protections available under Australian law. ANZ is unable to advise you on how the law will apply to your specific circumstances. If you require further information on the application of the law, please seek independent legal advice.

B. ELIGIBILITY FOR STATUTORY PROTECTIONS UNDER AUSTRALIAN LAW

The Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and Taxation Administration Act 1953 (Cth) provide special protections to eligible whistleblowers who make disclosures that qualify for protection (Statutory Protections).

Eligibility for protections under Australian law

The Statutory Protections will be available in Australia if each of the following conditions are satisfied:

A) You are one of the following:

- i. employee of the ANZ Group;
- ii. person who is providing, or has provided goods or services to the ANZ Group, whether paid or unpaid (e.g., volunteering), and this includes contingent workers and suppliers;
- iii. employee of a person identified at (ii) above;
- iv. officer or an associate of the ANZ Group, for example, a director or secretary of ANZ or of a related body corporate of ANZ; or
- v. relative or dependant of any of the individuals identified at (i) to (iv) above, or a dependant of such an individual's spouse.

B) Your report is made to any of the following:

- i. A person nominated by ANZ to receive reports, this includes the WPOs, the External Whistleblower Reporting Service managed by Deloitte and the WP Team inbox;
- ii. Directors and secretaries of entities in the ANZ Group;
- iii. Senior managers of entities in the ANZ Group (this is the Corporations Act definition, not a reference to the ANZ role title);
- iv. Identified senior managers of Group Tax (Group General Manager Taxation; Head of Tax Operations; Head of Tax Advisory; Head of Tax Institutional; Manager Tax Hubs; Tax Specialist (Head of Customer Tax Transparency); Head of Tax Group Functions; and Head of Australia Indirect Taxes) or a registered tax agent or BAS agent who provides tax agent or BAS services to ANZ;
- v. An internal or external auditor of ANZ Group, including a member of the Internal Audit team in the ANZ Group (other than administrative assistants);
- vi. An internal or external actuary of the ANZ Group; and

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

- vii. ASIC, APRA, the Commissioner of Taxation, or another Commonwealth body prescribed by regulation. Further information is publicly available on the relevant bodies' websites.

C) You have reasonable grounds to suspect that the information you disclose concerns misconduct, or an improper state of affairs or circumstances, in relation to the ANZ Group or anyone connected with the ANZ Group, and the report does not concern an Excluded matter. (At Part 3-A of the Policy, ANZ has set out the kinds of conduct that it will treat as within scope of the Policy. However, not all matters within the scope of Part 3-A will necessarily qualify for the Statutory Protections).

Disclosures that do not concern misconduct or an improper state of affairs or circumstances will not qualify for the Statutory Protections, however they may be protected under other legislation such as the Fair Work Act 2009 (Cth). A report that contains a mix of allegations of personal work-related grievances and misconduct or an improper state of affairs or circumstances will qualify for the Statutory Protections.

You will also be protected if you make a disclosure to a lawyer for the purposes of receiving legal advice or representation in relation to the Statutory Protections (even if the legal practitioner concludes that the Statutory Protections are not available, for example if your concern is a personal work-related grievance). Where you are seeking legal advice, please approach an independent lawyer and not a lawyer who works for ANZ Group.

If you meet the above criteria, the Statutory Protections are available to you even if you make the report anonymously.

Public interest and emergency disclosures

Statutory Protections may also be also available if you make a public interest or emergency disclosure to a journalist or member of Parliament. It is important to understand the criteria for making a public interest or emergency disclosure, which is set out below:

PUBLIC INTEREST DISCLOSURE	EMERGENCY DISCLOSURE
A previous report has been made to ASIC, APRA, or a prescribed Commonwealth body
90 days has passed since making the report	(No wait period)
You have reasonable grounds to believe that...
...making a further disclosure of the information would be in the public interest	...the information concerns a substantial and imminent danger to the health or safety of one or more persons or to the natural environment
You give the body to which the previous disclosure was made a written notification that includes sufficient information to identify the previous disclosure and states that you intend to make a disclosure
You then make a disclosure to a journalist, a member of the Parliament of the Commonwealth, the Parliament of a State, or the legislature of a Territory
The extent of the information disclosed is no greater than is necessary to inform the recipient of the...
...misconduct or improper state of affairs or circumstances	...substantial and imminent danger

You should seek independent legal advice before making a public interest or emergency disclosure.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

The Statutory Protections do not grant immunity for any misconduct you have engaged in that is revealed in your disclosure.

SAIDP – Signalements Direction des affaires juridiques du Secrétariat général de l'Autorité de contrôle prudentiel et de résolution

4, place de Budapest – CS 92459

75436 PARIS CEDEX 09 Reports can be submitted via email : 2780-SIGNALEMENTS-UT@acpr.banque-france.fr

In addition to the examples of misconduct provided in the Policy, in France, the other reportable events are as follows:

A Reportable Concern to the Whistleblowing channel is:

A possible malfunction in the effective implementation of:

- obligations specific to banking and financial activities, whether legislative or regulatory; national or directly applicable European regulation;
- professional and ethical standards; or
- specific instructions/directions from the supervisory body by effective managers.

A Reportable Concern (breach or violation) to the Autorité de Contrôle Prudentiel et de Résolution (ACPR) is:

A potential and proven breach of the obligations defined by:

- European regulations; and
- the French Monetary and Financial Code (MFC) for banking service providers

Part 6 (What if My Concerns Relate to Conduct, People, or Operations Outside of Australia?)

Please be aware that reports made from France via the whistleblowing channel are subject to French law and the guidelines of the data protection authority, Commission Nationale de l'informatique et des Libertés (CNIL) guidelines, and must comply with the following requirements:

- a) You must use the whistleblowing channel in an unbiased manner;
- b) The whistleblowing channel must be used in good faith. Consequently, a malicious report may result in disciplinary action and civil and/or criminal prosecution. Conversely, the mere fact that a concern reported proves to be unfounded, inaccurate or is not further processed or investigated, will not expose the whistleblower to such action if the report has been submitted in good faith.

c) Further to Principle 4 set out in Part 2 of the Policy (ANZ's expectations of you), whereby ANZ expects you to act honestly and ethically and make a report on reasonable grounds, in France, there are further requirements that dictate what types of reports will be considered. These are reports that, where possible:

i. requires all necessary precautions to be taken in order to preserve the confidentiality of your identity, and that of any person involved in the matter; and

d) requires to be reported on in an objective manner. No one will face any consequences for not using the whistleblowing channel.

e) While anonymous reporting is generally not encouraged in France, the CNIL recommends that an anonymous report can be dealt with under the following conditions:

- i the seriousness of the facts is established; and
- ii the report is sufficiently documented.

If these conditions are met, your report will be handled with special precautions under French law. If an anonymous report is found to be malicious, this may result in disciplinary action and prosecution as per item b) listed above.

Notwithstanding the fact that anonymous reporting may not be allowed in your specific case, your identity will of course be processed and kept confidential by the individuals specifically in charge of receiving and investigating the reports within ANZ and its provider as set out in the Policy. Those individuals are limited in number, specifically trained to receive, and investigate those reports, and subject to strong contractual confidentiality obligations.

f) In any case, your identity as a whistleblower will not be disclosed without your consent, except to a judicial authority.

The same confidentiality obligations apply to the identity of any other individuals concerned in a report and will only be disclosed to the judicial authority, where appropriate.

Note, however, that Deloitte, in its capacity as data processor and service provider managing a whistleblowing channel for ANZ, will have access to the identity of the whistleblower and of the other individuals concerned by a report, to the extent necessary to carry out its work in relation to the management of the whistleblowing channel and in accordance with its confidentiality obligations.

Where you report a concern to an appropriate authority, that authority will only be required to handle that concern in accordance with the Protected Disclosures Act where the relevant statutory requirements are satisfied. An appropriate authority may also refer your disclosure to another appropriate authority or to ANZ, following consultation with you.

Part 3 (Scope) Section A (Can I Make a Report Under this Policy?)

This Policy contains examples of what might constitute reportable misconduct. This list is not intended to be exhaustive and there may be other examples. Specific legal protections apply in New Zealand, under the Protected Disclosures Act, in relation to reports of "serious wrongdoing" which includes any acts, omissions, or courses of conduct in or by the ANZNZ Group that are or could be one or more of the following:

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

1. An offence
2. a serious risk to public health, public safety, the health or safety of any individual, or the environment;
3. a serious risk to the maintenance of New Zealand law, including the prevention, investigation, and detection of offences and the right to a fair trial;
4. unlawful, corrupt, or irregular use of public funds or resources; or
5. oppressive, unlawfully discriminatory, grossly negligent or that constitutes gross mismanagement, and is done by a person performing (or purporting to perform) a function or duty or exercising (or purporting to exercise) a power on behalf of a public sector organisation or the Government.

The specific legal protections that apply to reports of “serious wrongdoing” only apply to persons who fall within the definition of “discloser”, and who make a “protected disclosure” in accordance with the Protected Disclosures Act.

Part 3 (Scope) Section B (FIJI Matters)

Exclusion 1: Customer complaints

If you are a customer and are concerned with the way that ANZ or any company within the ANZ Group has handled any matter, product, or service, including an existing complaint, please contact ANZ: https://help.anz.co.nz/app/answers/detail/a_id/117/~lodge-a-complaint

Exclusion 2: Personal Work-related Grievances

As described in the Policy, personal work-related grievances are generally excluded under the Policy. However, if the matter said to give rise to any such grievance also amounts to “serious wrongdoing” under the Protected Disclosures Act, and is made in accordance with the required process, the legal protections may apply.

If you are considering making a report you may wish to seek independent legal advice, in relation to the options available for raising concerns of this nature. For further information relating to raising personal work-related grievances through other reporting channels at ANZ, please contact ANZ’s Employee Relations team via ANZ PeopleHub.

Exclusion 3: Legal Professional Privilege

Nothing in the Policy authorises a person to disclose information that is protected by legal professional privilege. A disclosure of such information is not protected under the Policy and is not a “protected disclosure” under the Protected Disclosures Act.

Part 7 (I Have Made A Report Under This Policy. What Next?) Section A (Protection from Detrimental Conduct)

In addition to the examples of detrimental conduct set out in the Policy, victimisation is strictly prohibited.

Victimisation means any situation where you receive actual or threatened unfavourable treatment because of making, or intending to make, encouraging, or giving, information in support of a report under the Policy.

Should you be treated less favourably, or experience retaliation or victimisation, upon making a report of “serious wrongdoing” under this Policy, you may be entitled to various protections under New Zealand law (including but not limited to the Protected Disclosures Act, Employment Relations Act 2000, Human Rights Act 1993, and/or Privacy Act 2020).

Part 7 (I Have Made A Report Under This Policy. What Next?) Section B (Confidentiality and consent)

The Policy lists particular circumstances in which ANZ may need to disclose your Identity (even where you have sought anonymity).

In addition to these particular circumstances, where a report of “serious wrongdoing” is made in accordance with the Protected Disclosures Act, ANZ may disclose your Identity if it has reasonable grounds to believe that disclosing the identifying information is essential:

- for the effective investigation of a disclosure;
- to prevent a serious risk to public health, public safety, the health, or safety of any individual or the environment; or
- to comply with the principles of natural justice.

Any disclosure of your Identity will be managed in accordance with ANZ’s obligations under New Zealand law.

In addition to the protections outlined in the Policy, if you are an employee of the ANZ business to which a report relates, or another “discloser” for the purposes of the Protected Disclosures Act, and you provide supporting information in relation to that report so that the report can be investigated, both the information and your identity will be protected under this Policy, where you disclose that information in accordance with ANZ policy and New Zealand law.

If you are dissatisfied with the way ANZ investigated or acted upon the report, you are entitled to raise this with an appropriate authority, including one of the authorities noted in Part 2 of this schedule.

Roles and Responsibilities Whistleblower Program Team

8 Papua New Guinea (PNG)

A. FURTHER REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the Policy, please note the following if you are reporting from PNG, or your concern or report relates to anyone, or conduct connected to Australia and New Zealand Banking Group (PNG) Limited (ANZPNG):

Part 2 (Principles), Principle 7 (Regulators)

A reminder you are entitled to escalate your report to the financial regulator directly at any time regarding your concern: Bank of Papua New Guinea (BPNG)

Phone: +675 322 7200 | Fax: +675 321 1617 | Write: PO Box 121, Port Moresby 111, National Capital District, Papua New Guinea | Website (online contact form): <https://www.bankpng.gov.pg/about-us/contact-us/>

Part 3 (Scope) Section A (Can I Make a Report Under this Policy?)

While we encourage any of the persons listed in Part 3.1.A of the Policy to speak up if they have concerns relating to ANZPNG, it is important to note that only employees of ANZPNG are eligible to make reports which qualify for protection under PNG's Whistleblower Act 2020 (the PNG Act).

The PNG Act applies to disclosures of 'impropriety' in the workplace by employees. In addition to the examples listed in Part 3.A.2 of the Policy, the following would amount to impropriety under the PNG Act:

- a) a miscarriage of justice;
- b) endangering the health or safety of an individual;
- c) environmental damage;
- d) unfair discrimination; and
- e) deliberately concealing any of the above conduct.

Further, in order for a disclosure to qualify as a 'protected disclosure' under the PNG Act, the disclosure must be made in good faith. It is an offence to make an intentionally false or misleading disclosure and may be subject to a fine of up to K10,000.00 or six months' imprisonment with hard labour. A disclosure will also not be protected if you commit an offence by making it.

Part 4 (How do I Make a Report or Find out More Information about the Process?)

In addition to the subject matter and good faith requirements noted above, in order for a report to qualify as a protected disclosure under the PNG Act, it must be made to:

- a) a lawyer who holds a current practising certificate issued under the PNG Lawyers' Act 1986; or
- b) any of the persons or channels set out in Part 4 of the Policy.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

Part 7 (I Have Made a Report under this Policy, What Next?) Section A (Protection from Detrimental Conduct)

In addition to the protections set out in Part 7.A of the Policy, under the PNG Act an employer must not subject an employee to 'occupational detriment' as a result, or partly as a result, of the employee making a protected disclosure. Occupational detriment means being:

- a) subjected to any disciplinary action;
- b) dismissed, suspended, demoted, harassed, or intimidated;
- c) transferred to a different position against your will;
- d) refused transfer or promotion;
- e) subjected to a term or condition of employment or retirement which is altered to your disadvantage;
- f) refused a reference or being provided with an adverse reference;
- g) denied appointment to any employment or office;
- h) threatened with any of the above; or
- i) adversely affected in respect of your employment, profession, or office in any other way.

Under the PNG Act, if you have made a protected disclosure and you reasonably believe that, as a result of making that disclosure, you have or will be subject to occupational detriment, you may request a transfer to another position within ANZPNG in which you will not be subject to occupational detriment. ANZPNG must comply with that request if it is reasonably practicable to do so.

If you have been subjected to occupational detriment as a result of making a protected disclosure, you may apply to a competent PNG court for appropriate relief.

A. FURTHER REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the Policy, please note the following if you are reporting from the U.S. or your concern or report relates to anyone, or conduct connected to the ANZ Group's business or branch personnel in the U.S.

Employees located in ANZ's New York office have whistleblower and anti-retaliation protections under a number of U.S. federal, state, and local laws (U.S. Whistleblower Laws), including laws that relate specifically to securities and financial services organizations.

New York State Specific Requirements - Principle 2 item 2

Under New York State Labor Law Section §740 ANZ New York Branch staff as private sector employees, are afforded a "reasonable belief" standard under the law and when filing a whistleblower complaint, need only demonstrate that they reasonably believed that their employer's practices violated any federal, state, or local statute, rule, or regulation regardless of the subject matter.

ANZ New York Branch staff (e.g., employees) must still make a good faith effort to notify ANZ about the violation "prior to" making an external notification. However, such notification is not required by staff where:

- there is an imminent and serious danger to the public health or safety;
- where the employee reasonably believes that reporting would result in a destruction of evidence or other concealment of the activity, policy, or practice;
- such activity, policy or practice could reasonably be expected to lead to endangering the welfare of a minor;
- the employee reasonably believes that reporting to the supervisor would result in physical harm to the employee or any other person; or
- the employee reasonably believes that T&C, a supervisor, legal or Compliance is already aware of the activity, policy or practice and will not correct such activity, policy, or practice.

The definition of "employee(s)" under also includes current and former employees and independent contractors.

The definition of "law, rule or regulation" is defined as: (i) any duly enacted federal, state, or local executive order; (ii) any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to any such executive order; or (iii) any judicial or administrative decision, ruling or order.

The definition a "retaliatory action" includes: An adverse action taken by ANZ as an employer to discharge, threaten, penalize, or in any other manner discriminate against any employee or former employee exercising his or her rights under [§ 740], including:

- adverse employment actions or threats to take such adverse employment actions against an employee in the terms of conditions of employment, including, but not limited to, discharge, suspension, or demotion;

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

- actions or threats to take such actions that would adversely impact a former employee's current or future employment; or
- threatening to contact or contacting United States immigration authorities or otherwise reporting or threatening to report an employee's suspected citizenship or immigration status or the suspected citizenship or immigration status of an employee's family or household member, as defined in subdivision two of section four hundred fifty- nine-a of the social services law, to a federal, state, or local agency.

Threats to take actions that would adversely impact the employee's current or future employment are considered retaliatory, along with an employee's demotion or termination or suspensions and are prohibited by any ANZ employee, director, or officer.

The statute of limitations for claims brought under § 740 is two (2) years and employees are expressly entitled to additional remedies such as trial by jury, recovery of front pay, civil penalties not to exceed $10,000, and punitive damages. Prevailing plaintiffs are also entitled to injunctive relief, reinstatement, compensation for lost wages, benefits, and other remuneration, and reasonable costs and attorney's fees. Notably however, employees should note that if a court finds that a retaliation claim was brought "without basis in law or in fact", a court may award reasonable attorney's fees and court costs and disbursements to ANZ as the employer.

ANZ NY Branch employees may find all protections, rights and obligations afforded to them under § 741 and posted in designated posting area by T&C or refer to the below link.

Part 7 (I Have Made A Report Under This Policy. What Next?), Section A (Protection from Detrimental Conduct)

The U.S. Whistleblower Laws recognise that retaliation is one of the primary risks associated whistleblowing. In addition to ANZ's prohibition on detrimental conduct which includes retaliation (in any form, including among others, demotion, discharge, suspension, or harassment against any staff who makes a report internally or externally), there may be further protections provided to the whistleblower under the U.S. Whistleblower Laws.

Under U.S. law, you have a private right of action if you feel you have suffered retaliation because of any lawful act of making a whistleblower report. You may contact the applicable agency directly under your Legally Protected Communication rights (see below).
